

DEVELOPMENT OF FOOTBALL SCHOOL MANAGEMENT PERFORMANCE INSTRUMENTS BASED ON "QUALITY MANAGEMENT SYSTEM" IN -DIY FOOTBALL SCHOOL

by Sulistiyono, Wawan Sundawan Suherman, Martono, Duwi Kurnianto Pambudi

ABSTRACT

The system and management pattern of youth coaching is one of the sources of problems from the failure to achieve national team achievements in various international competitions that followed. The youth coaching system whose main implementer is the SSB (football school) is still far from the process of coaching quality young players. This research aims to develop performance instruments for quality management system-based SSB in SSB affiliated with Asprov PSSI DIY. The research method used is R and D (Research, Development) method. Validity test results of measuring instrument model developed after analyzed with Aiken validity test is 0.89, while the reliability of measuring instrument is 0.85 which means the measuring instrument developed is feasible to be used to know the performance of SSB management in SSB affiliated to Asprov PSSI DIY. The implementation of accreditation policy in SSB who is a member of PSSI DIY is expected to be the trigger for changes to the quality of prospective football players in the future.

The system and management pattern of youth coaching is one of the sources of problems from the failure to achieve national team achievements in various international competitions that followed. The youth coaching system whose main implementer is the SSB (football school) is still far from the process of coaching quality young players. This research aims to develop performance instruments for quality management system-based SSB in SSB affiliated with Asprov PSSI DIY. The research method used is R and D (Research, Development) method. Validity test results of measuring instrument model developed after analyzed with Aiken validity test is 0.89, while the reliability of measuring instrument is 0.85 which means the measuring instrument developed is feasible to be used to know the performance of SSB management in SSB affiliated to Asprov PSSI DIY. The implementation of accreditation policy in SSB who is a member of PSSI DIY is expected to be the trigger for changes to the quality of prospective football players in the future.

Kata Kunci: "QUALITY MANAGEMENT SYSTEM, FOOTBALL, AND INSTRUMEN"