ABSTRACT

Volleyball is a sport with quite a proud achievement for Indonesia in multi-branch events within ASEAN. Internally, volleyball is a sport that is consistent in organizing various championship events from various age groups to a fairly narrow scope, namely Regency/City and clubs within the Regency/City area. As a vehicle to further develop the existence of volleyball in the community, it is necessary to conduct socialization at an earlier level. Coaching from an early age (age range 10 years) is a vehicle that is considered appropriate to start introducing children to competitions on a regular basis. However, because the scope of children is still considered quite young, there are several things that must be considered by the coaches of volleyball in the club scope. One of them is the concept of overall movement development in the area of ??fundamental motor skills, as well as several physical and psychological components as well as a solid character in children. So that coaching for coaches and coaches of volleyball clubs needs to be done as an initial effort to cultivate and develop athletes at an early age.
