ABSTRACT

This Community Service activity aims to train teachers at SMA N 1 Tempel in implementing project-based learning methods based on the independent curriculum curriculum. This training is carried out to discuss the theory and planning of learning activities using project-based learning methods by utilizing the Merdeka Mengajar platform. Furthermore, the resource person conducts mentoring activities at the schools where the trainees teach. This follow-up activity is carried out to review the trainees' understanding and implementation of the project-based learning method and its application in accordance with the 2013 curriculum. The training resulted in four findings. First, the PPM activities ran well and smoothly and the participants' assessment of the PPM implementation was also very good. Second, the participants experienced an increased understanding of the preparation of learning tools with project-based methods. Third, the motivation and enthusiasm to participate in the training was very high because the responses given by the participants were very active during the training and mentoring process. Fourth, the service participants felt happy and satisfied with this service activity and hoped that similar activities could continue to be carried out in the future.
