

MAPPING STYLE LEARNING PAMONG LEARNING NONFORMAL AND INFORMAL EDUCATION IN DIY

by Pujiyanti Fauziah

ABSTRACT

This study aims to map the style of learning among in DIY, research method is done by descriptive statistical approach. The results showed the learning style of the among of 64% among learning with theoretical style, the theory of adapting and integrating observation into a complex (logical) but logical theory. They think about problems in a vertical, step-by-step, and logical way. They digest different facts into coherent theories. 18% activists, Activists show someone who involves themselves in a new experience. Here they enjoy and love to be mastered by this new experience of 16% reflector, reflector people prefer to stand behind and full of careful experience and observe it from different perspectives, and 2% are pragmatic, pragmatic people skilled in trying various ideas, theories, and techniques to see if all of them in practice can be used. They positively look for new ideas and take the opportunity to experiment with persistence.

Kata Kunci: Mapping, learning style, fasilitator