

Blended Learning Course Curriculum Development and Social Studies Learning Materials

by Supardi

ABSTRACT

The purpose of developing blended learning courses in the Development of Social Studies Curriculum and Learning Materials is to integrate face-to-face and online lectures. This activity is carried out by beginning the identification of lecture material, developing lecture material, compiling material to be uploaded, uploading material, and conducting lectures online and in person. The result of the development is a blended lecture system which is proven by teaching materials and the lecturing system that is refined in the system

Kata Kunci: blended learning, curriculum, social studies