ABSTRACT

Education aims to improve the competence of students through learning activities. Learning activities can run effectively and efficiently with the use of learning media. In addition, the use of learning media in teaching and learning activities can motivate, stimulate attention and attract students. Jobsheet is a form of learning media that can help students in the practicum learning process. The jobsheet contains procedures for implementing the project and contains task sheets that must be done by students. This research aims to develop a jobsheet preparation guide product for practical courses in the Fine Arts Education Study Program, FBSB, UNY. The methodology used is 4D including Define, Design, Develop, and Disamminate. The results of the material expert validation obtained a score of 4.3 with the assessment category being very good. Material experts are of the opinion that the guidelines and format for compiling job sheets already contain steps that are coherent, easy to understand and complete with templates and examples so that it will make it easier for educators or lecturers to prepare job sheets for practicum courses. Based on suggestions and input from material experts, the guidelines and format for compiling the job sheet are supplemented by the addition of a video link sub-section on the job sheet template. The results of the media expert validation obtained a score of 4.1 or included in the good category. Media experts are of the opinion that visually the appearance of the cover design and layout of the contents of the guidebook has harmonious, proportional and consistent values. Based on the advice and input of media experts, the guidelines and format for compiling the job sheet have been added to the bibliography
