ABSTRACT

Abstract

This Community Service Program aimed at improving knowledge and skills of senior high schools students in Yogyakarta Province in delivering speech in English.

This program was held on April 15, 2016 in Faculty of Languages and Arts. The program included a short training on speech delivery. The activities in the program were workshop on speech delivery, speech practice, and speech competition/contest. Through this program, the participants got more opportunities to practice delivering speech in English in front of other students from different schools. The results showed that the students' knowledge and skills in speech delivery improved. Their confidence in talking in front of public also increased.
