Abstract

This research have the objectives to describe the eco fiction's structure in Nouvelles Vertes Anthology, to describe the ecologic message of the eco fictions in Nouvelles Vertes Anthology, and to describe the didactics value which became the message of the authors as environmental saviors. The method used in this research is descriptive-qualitative method with content analysis techniques. The result of this research show that the nine fictions in the Nouvelles Vertes anthology indicate the interaction between characters of those fictions and its environment, such environmental concerns, natural resource use, and creature's redemption, and also illegal logging, exploitation of natural resources, the use of the harmful goods to the earth like plastic bags. Didactic value carried through all fiction in Nouvelles Vertes anthology is intended as message and as pedagogical material for the young generation. All the purpose of the message conveyed through the didactic value of that anthology is to invite the young generation for always love, protect, and maintain the ecological balance, by using goods, products and technologies innovation wisely, by using eco-friendly products, by doing introspection through their behaviors, and by thinking about the impact of activity to be done.
