

Scientific Writing Writing Training for Teacher Teachers Teachers Subject Automotive Mechanics Kulon Progo Regency To Assist The Acceleration Process of Promotion

by Sukoco, Herminarto Sofyan, Wardan Suyanto, Bambang Sulisty

ABSTRACT

The Community Service Program (PPM) undertaken aims to increase the willingness of teachers to write scientific papers, to improve teachers' ability to write scientific papers, and to improve reference tracking abilities in various sources. Implementation of PPM is preceded by providing information to the Principal about the training activities to be conducted, providing invitations to teachers who will be trainees, conducting training starting 19, 20, and 21 August 2017, and making reports on the results of the implementation of the activities. The materials presented during the training are: 1) Urgency of writing scientific papers for career improvement and knowledge of educator, 2) writing strategy of scientific proceedings and journal, 3) various scientific journals, and 4) system of article proceedings and journals. Participants also get guidance of writing scientific papers on tutorial activities and practice of writing scientific papers. Participants training as many as 20 teachers SMK MGMP Automotive Engineering TKR se Kulonprogo Yogyakarta.

After the training, the results obtained are: 1) increasing the willingness of teachers to write scientific papers, 2) increasing the ability of teachers in writing scientific papers, 3) increasing the ability of reference search in various sources, and 4) participants know the various scientific journals in UNY can be used to publish their scientific work.

Kata Kunci: Scientific papers