

COMPARATIVE STUDY OF RELATIONSHIP OF MOTIVATION, ATTITUDE, ANXIETY AND SELF EFFICACY ON ACHIEVEMENT OF REGIONAL AND NATIONAL LEVELS ATHLETES AT JUNIOR AND SENIOR LEVELS

by Abdul Alim

ABSTRACT

objective: This study aims to determine the relationship of motivation, attitude, anxiety, and self efficacy to the performance of field tennis athletes and analyze the differences in relations between field tennis athletes at the regional and national levels at junior and senior levels. Research Methods: The research design used in this study was descriptive comparative correlational. The research data was obtained from the results of filling in the motivation questionnaire, attitude, anxiety, and self efficacy by tennis athletes. The sampling technique used is incidental sampling. Analysis of the data used in this study uses multiple linear regression and mean tests. Research Results: the target to be achieved in this study is to be completed and the results of research that are in accordance with the plan are obtained, as well as the publication of articles from this research in indexed journals or international proceedings. Conclusions: 1) there is no significant relationship between motivation, attitude, anxiety and self efficacy with the achievements of junior field tennis athletes, 2) there is no significant relationship between motivation, anxiety and self efficacy with the achievements of senior field tennis athletes, and 3) there are a significant relationship between attitude and the achievements of senior field tennis athletes.

Kata Kunci: Motivation, attitude, anxiety, and self efficacy, tennis achievements