ABSTRACT

Guidance and Counseling Teachers play a role in providing psychological services such as developing students' talents, interests, and personalities related to entrepreneurship, as well as providing facilities to practice entrepreneurship. The subject teacher inserts materials about entrepreneurship when conducting learning on the relevant subject matter. The entrepreneurship teachers provide material on entrepreneurship, starting with preparing a business, running a business, and evaluating a business. Through this collaboration, it is expected that the students' interest in becoming entrepreneurs will improve. Another finding from this research is the Guidance and Counseling teachers' lack of understanding regarding entrepreneurship and they have not played many role in providing career guidance services with entrepreneurial content. Through this Community Service, the guidance and counseling teachers of Vocational High School obtain an understanding of career guidance services and skills in carrying out entrepreneurial career guidance services. So that it can improve students' interest in entrepreneurship.
