

WORKSHOP FOR DEVELOPING HIGH SCHOOL TEACHING MATERIALS FOR ONLINE LEARNING

by Sulis Triyono, Pratomo Widodo, Lia Malia, Yati Sugiarti, Wening Sahayu, Akbar Kuntardi Setiawan

ABSTRACT

The objectives of community service activities carried out by the PPM Team of the German Language Education Department, FBS UNY are as follows. General Purpose: The teacher has the skills to compile German language teaching materials and the skills to prepare online lessons. Specific Objectives: Teachers can take advantage of the German online learning system complete with evaluation tools.

This PPM activity was carried out for three days. The stages of activities include: (1) selecting German language teaching materials that suit the needs of students in emergency response situations due to the Covid-19 pandemic, (2) preparing learning devices and preparing German language evaluation tools, and (3) filling in German learning content online which is equipped with photographs that are attractive to students and suitable for providing independent study materials at students' homes (study from home).

The results of this PPM activity can be explained as follows. German language teachers (2 people) and participants (26 teachers from subjects other than German) have the knowledge and skills in: (1) selecting German language teaching materials that suit the needs of students in emergency response situations due to the Covid-19 pandemic, (2) preparation of learning tools and preparation of German language evaluation tools, and (3) filling in German language learning content online which is equipped with photos that are attractive to students and suitable for providing independent study materials at students' homes (study from home).

Kata Kunci: online learning, material selection, material filling