

Community service (PPM) in the preparation of classroom action research proposals in elementary schools in the new normal era

by Pratiwi Pujiastuti*, Fery Muhamad Firdaus, Herwin, Rossy Arlinda, Devie Anggita Akbaresti, Latif Pertiwi

ABSTRACT

This community service (PPM) activity is carried out on the basis of the needs of the target group. The purpose of this activity is to provide insight and skills to elementary school teachers in preparing class action research proposals in making improvements to a problem in their respective classes. This assistance was attended by elementary school teachers in the Kulon Progo District Education Office. The participants were 25 teachers. The methods used in this PPM are training, discussion and brainstorming, the practice of preparing research proposals and mentoring. The stages of activities include planning, implementation and evaluation and follow-up. Based on the assessment of the products produced by the participants, the ability of participants to plan class action research proposals, as well as implementation in making class action research proposals can be declared skilled and good.

Kata Kunci: Training, classroom action research, elementary school