

Pengembangan Perangkat Pembelajaran Berbasis Teknologi Informasi

by Dr. Hanna Sri Mudjilah, M.Pd

ABSTRACT

Objective Research and Development what is done to review the get how to make a set-Based Information Technology Media. Two Products to be produced is form of Research Dictionary of Music and software Contains songs, composer and syllabus. Methods Used is a Research and Development Methods. About Research-Based Learning Software Development based Information Technology. The research is to develop a set of software media is used to enrich the understanding about review Terms material and music. Research songs produces a form of software product guides national songs and nusantara songs and terms musical sophistication through android handphone has been prepared ahead. Research shows that media Produced can use the media to review the Learning with android handphone using software and national songs and songs of the archipelago can be used easily. Evaluation Results from the experts matter as much as 75% and expert media at 85.71%. In addition to the results obtained from the Feasibility aspect function by 83.33%, amounting to 87.50% Efficiency aspect, aspect Usability amounted to 79.58% and amounted to 85.83% aspect Portability, then can say that the music-based dictionary application android handphone for a review used as a prayer one solution for a review of music dictionary with facilitate access using android smartphone for practitioners and academics to music.

Kata Kunci: Media, Teknologi Information Based. Music