ABSTRACT

In general, the training activities ran well and smoothly because of the support and role of several parties. Technically, the training went well because of several things, including: Selection of training materials that were in accordance with the needs of residents/mothers for insight into sharia economics and business or businesses that were in accordance with the guidelines. religion. Residents feel that interesting lecture methods and interesting learning methods are very useful in everyday life. They feel they have to improve their business and financial experience to comply with sharia and feel calmer in implementing it. Good cooperation between the Head of the Cooperative and the Head of the UNY Service Team and encouragement for all residents/cooperative members to take part in training as well as adequate training facilities such as space, LCD and sound system. Thursday, 26 October 2017, community service activities were carried out aimed at increasing independence for members of the Badja Cooperative in Bodeh Hamlet, Ambarketawang Village, Kapanewon Gamping, Sleman Regency.
