

The Relevance of PANCASILA and Civic Education Master Program in Industrial Revolution of 4.0. Era

by Sunarso, Samsuri, Suharno, Deviana Fadhillatie Azizah, Zain Nugroho

ABSTRACT

This study aims to: (1) mapping the relevance of the Pancasila and Civic Education (PPKn) Program Curriculum in postgraduate programs in universities in Indonesia entering the era of the industrial revolution 4.0; (2) mapping the development of competency of graduates of the Study Program of PPKn in universities in Indonesia entering the era of the industrial revolution 4.0; (3) constructing the PPKn Program Curriculum in postgraduate programs entering the era of the industrial revolution 4.0. The research method was conducted with a qualitative approach to analyse the relevance of the postgraduate program curriculum organizing Civics / PPKn Study Programs in Indonesia. Data collection conducted a group discussion technique (FGD) and documentation. The research subjects of the documents were determined purposively on the PPKn Study Program curriculum documents made by a number of Postgraduate PPKn study programs throughout Indonesia, by taking samples of Gorontalo State University, Padang State University and Sebelas Maret University Surakarta. The FGD was conducted to construct the relevance of the PPY UNY S2 Study Curriculum with the needs of the industry era 4.0. Data analysis was carried out inductively, and presented analytically descriptive.

The results of the research are: first, the academic report of curriculum policy in the postgraduate program; second, the national / international seminar paper; and third, the findings of research that analyze: (a) the relevance of the PPKn Curriculum in the Indonesian University Postgraduate Program entering the era of the industrial revolution 4.0; and, (b) a map of the development of the competencies of PPKn graduates in the Indonesian University Postgraduate Program era of the industrial revolution 4.0.

Kata Kunci: Relevance, master curriculum program, Pancasila, Civic Education, Industrial revolution 4.0