

A Study of Student Association Performance at Faculty of Economics Yogyakarta

by Rosidah, Nadia Sasmita Wijayanti, Voettie Wisataone

ABSTRACT

The research aims to describe the working programs and explore performances of student association at Faculty of Economics State University of Yogyakarta through the 2017 working program. The research method applied was the qualitative method. Data were collected by conducting observations, documentation, and in-depth interviews. The research sample consisted of two representatives (the head and the vice) of six student associations, so the total sample informants were twelve. The data were analyzed by conducting the triangulation test. Research findings indicated that the planned working programs could be done and integrated with the faculty vision and mission by 100%. Performances of the student associations of the Faculty of Economics State University of Yogyakarta were explored by planning, implementation, and evaluation of their working programs. Being active in student associations was very helpful to enhance their leadership, negotiation, social, and emotional competencies.

Kata Kunci: performance, student association, working program, vision and mission, Faculty of Economics State University of Yogyakarta