

INCREASING TEACHER COMPETENCE THROUGH CLASS ACTION RESEARCH TRAINING (PTK) FOR PRIMARY SCHOOL TEACHERS

by Ashadi, Tri Kusnawati, Roswita Lumban Tobing, Wening Sahayu

ABSTRACT

By the implementation of teacher certification, teachers are required not only to have teaching qualifications but also to have the ability to carry out classroom action research. The aim of carrying out this activity is to improve teachers' professional competence in writing classroom action research. By implementing the activity, it is hoped that elementary school teachers who are members of Cluster III Depok District, Sleman Regency can apply the knowledge gained to improve the quality of teaching and learning activities in their respective classes through classroom action research carried out by each teacher.

The target audience for this activity are elementary school teachers who are members of Cluster III, Depok District, Sleman Regency, which consists of teachers from Babarsari Elementary School, CT IV Elementary School, Kledokan Elementary School, Al Islam Tambak Bayan Elementary School, and Taruna Bangsa Elementary School. The total number of participants was 20 teachers. The Training took place from September, 19 to 29 2022, using lecture methods, dialogue, and preparing classroom action research proposals. This training is carried out offline and online.
