

Development of Small Side Honesty Games Based on Android Applications for Practicing Honesty in Early Childhood

by Subagiyo Irianto

ABSTRACT

The crisis of honesty impacts on moral crises and of course damages generation after generation. The importance of being honest from childhood, can begin when you are still sitting in the elementary school and in the football school (SSB). Starting from SSB, children can get used to always being honest which is applied and taught by the trainer. This research uses the development method used is a combination of RDR models (research, development, research)). Researchers try to make an example of a small-sided honesty exercise based on an android application that will be developed to help trainers' solutions in providing innovative football programs that are integrated with honest characters. The results of the questionnaire for students of Real Madrid football school Yogyakarta State University showed that for the assessment of the aspects of convenience 86.7 percent were categorized as feasible, excitement 89.6% were categorized as feasible, honesty 85.7% was categorized as feasible, easy to understand 92.1% was categorized as feasible and product benefits 93.5% are categorized as feasible. It can be concluded that small sided honesty games are appropriate to be used as one of the media / tools of soccer training and to instill honesty in children.

Kata Kunci: Honesty, small sided games