ABSTRACT

Community service or lecturers in off-campus activities carried out by the Women's group in Jurangjero hamlet, Ngawen, Gunungkidul aims to increase women's knowledge and skills in making ecoprint batik from local plants.

This activity was carried out among 20 women's groups in Jurang Jero hamlet, Ngawen, Gunungkidul. The implementation of this activity goes through several stages, namely planning, implementation, evaluation and follow-up using an adult approach. The method used is lecture, discussion and practice. Activities carried out include providing material, practical activities, evaluation and reflection.

The results of this activity resulted in an increase in the knowledge and skills of the training participants, who now did not know about ecoprint batik. Participants are also skilled in making ecoprint batik starting from mordant techniques, leaf arrangement, cloth rolling, steaming and color strengthening.
