

DEVELOPMENT OF TRADITIONAL ALBUM HOUSE YOGYAKARTA TEACHING MATERIALS AS INTERIOR DESIGN COURSE

by Eni Puji Astuti, Dwi Retno Sri Ambarwati

ABSTRACT

This research aims to develop the Album of Traditional Home of Yogyakarta as subjects. The subjects of this research is Interior Design Students of Art Education in U N Y. Research conducted with the adoption of the Research and Development (Research Development) with steps Preliminary Information Collection, Planning, and Developing draft products. The results of this research is the formulation of a needs analysis of products developed as teaching material learning in courses of Interior design. The planning module is implemented with FGD activity involving two expert judgment that generate the schema modules. The initial development that produced a draft of the album. What stands out on this album is the product planning with the dominant images of traditional homes as the main material described descriptively.

Kata Kunci: album, the traditional home of Yogyakarta, development