ABSTRACT

Community service carried out by the PkM Team of the Department of German Language Education, FBSB-UNY, took place from July 31 to June 14, 2023. The aim of this community service activity were to: (1) provide knowledge about the Stationenlernen method, (2) offer practical experience in implementing the Stationenlernen method in school teaching. The activities conducted in this program consisted of three stages: (1) delivering materials about the Stationenlernen method and practical application of the Stationenlernen method. This activity was held at SMA N 1 Ngemplak Sleman on May 31, 2023. (2) Development of lesson plans (RPP) and the production of videos, which were independently carried out by the participants from June 1 to June 13, 2023. (3) Discussions on the lesson plans and videos using the Stationenlernen method in teaching, as well as the presentation of lesson plans and teaching videos. This activity was conducted online on June 14, 2023. The results obtained from this community engagement program are as follows: The program was successfully and smoothly executed. The first meeting was attended by 55 participants, while the second meeting was attended by 38 participants. After attending this training, the participating teachers gained knowledge about the Stationenlernen method, which they applied in the lesson plans they created. The teachers are also skilled in using the Stationenlernen method in teaching, as evidenced by the teaching videos they produced.
