ABSTRACT

The purpose of this PPM is to train basic level English mastery for santri at the Zuhriyah Orphanage and Podok Pesantren. This activity lasts for three weeks every Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday at 09.00-11.00 WIB. The materials and activities focused on some basic English skill topics such as introducing oneself and others, describing objects, situations, people, and explaining directions and locations.

The results of the activity showed that the participants had different initial skills in speaking English. This is due to the different levels of education among the participants. To adapt to these variations in skills, lectures are the first method applied in the training. An instructor provides an understanding of the topics being taught. Furthermore, practicing in small groups is carried out to demonstrate the mastery of vocabulary and expressions that have been explained by the instructor. In the end, participants presented the results of the exercises in small groups that they have done. The three learning approaches can attract trainees to focus and participate actively in the training. The results achieved in the training activities were quite good because the participants became more confident and brave enough to try speaking in English.
