ABSTRACT

The aim of this Pengabdian Pada Masyarakat (community service) which conducted by German Language Department FBS-UNY PPM Team is to provide German Language Teacher as the advisor of PPL student in their school with knowledge, wisdom, and skill in teaching practices as an alternative to guide and teach students who is doing their PPL in the school.

This community service activity is conducted in the form of workshop which lasted approximately about seven hours. The steps taken in this workshop are lecture concerning Praktik Mengajar Terbimbing (guided teaching practice), video playing of guided teaching practice techniques and conference video observation, and a group discussion.

The result of this community service activity is the German language teachers as the advisors for PPL student in the school possess knowledge and skills concerning guided teaching practices, and that they can apply the result of this workshop as an alternative in training and guiding PPL student in their school. All the teachers in the workshop show enthusiasm in participating because they can obtain new knowledge concerning guided teaching practice. They also hope that this workshop will continue, because there is only part of the knowledge concerning guided teaching practice that has been given.
